SCHOOLBOY HIT BY CAR, POLICE HOLD DRIVER

Senior High Pupil Tossed To Auto's Hood While on Way to School.

BOY IN HOSPITAL

2 Companions Escape When Vehicle Heads Toward Them After Passing Machine.

Mansfield police today were holding the driver of an auto which struck a high school pupil as he crossed Park avenue west this morning on his way to school.

Denis E. Berry, 16, of Raleigh avenue, suffered severe lacerations of the forehead and severe back injuries in the accident, the first in which a Mansfield school pupil was injured this year.

Police are holding John W. Fisher, 120 Columbia avenue, driver of the car, while they complete an investigation of the accident.

Officers quoted Fisher as saying he was driving west on Park avenue when the car struck the boy near Brinkerhoff avenue.

He said that he had pulled out to pass another car and failed to see Berry and two companions until it was too late to stop. Fisher also stated that another car was approaching at the time of the accident.

The boys with Berry managed to jump aside but he was hit by the front of the car, thrown into the air and dropped on the auto's hood. Police said the boy also suffered a head injury when he rolled off the car.

The youth was taken to the General hospital in the Jones ambulance. Examination at first indicated that he may have suffered a broken back but X-rays disproved this.

Hospital attendants said that skin tissue had been gouged out of the boy's back where the car had struck him. His condition was described this afternoon as being "good."

Fisher told police that he attempted to stop when he saw the boys but was unable to in so short a distance. His car ran about a quarter of a block before stopping, police said.

This was the first serious acci-

4 Truck Drivers Arrested In PUC Check Up In City

Held up by an unusually large number of violations at Norwalk where 25 drivers were arrested, inspectors for the Ohio Public Utilities commission arrested only four truck drivers in Mansfield yesterday in a truck checking drive, part of a state-wide campaign.

Inspectors, headed by Marion Watts, of New London, were only able to check trucks here yesterday, instead of Tuesday and Wednesday, as scheduled. Checking was done on Park avenue where U. S Route 42 and 30 meet.

The four drivers arrested here were all charged with failure to have tax receipt cards for their trucks and were fined $25 and costs each by Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch in municipal court.

Those arrested and fined were Donald Twyham of Canton, Frank Peterson of Jamestown, N. Y., James Hoffman of Jeromesville, and Dean Gibbons of Canton.

Twenty-five drivers were fined a total of $782 at Norwalk. The men were charged with failure to have tax cards, log books, reciprocity cards, failure to have the required fluid in fire extinguishers and illegal hauling.

Six-Alarm Fire Rages In Philadelphia Area

Damage Set at $2,500,000 as Flames Sweep Lumber Yard, Homes In Industrial Sector.

(By United Press)

PHILADELPHIA—A $2,500,000, six-alarm fire raged through the industrial section today, destroying a huge lumber yard, 10 frame dwellings and seriously damaged a machine shop at the newly-opened Cramps shipyard, working on defense projects.

The flames, roaring through thousands of feet of dry lumber, jumped spaces 75 yards across, spreading havoc through the congested area.

A large millwork building was gutted, two small adjoining plants ruined and approximately 50 other homes severely damaged.

Starting in Lear's lumberyard, the seething flames jumped to the adjoining Janssen Millwork company and sent showers of burning embers throughout the neighborhood. Michael Regan, a lumberyard watchman, was reported missing.

The homes directly in the path of the fire were demolished within an hour, and only constant play of water on surrounding rooftops prevented the conflagration from spreading farther.

Damage to the shipyard buildings was confined to an outlying four-story structure housing a ma-

DOUBLE PLAY

U. S. Sends Reds Machinery, Stages Pacific Flight.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The United States has resumed shipments of some machinery to Soviet Russia, it was learned today.

Coincidentally, the United States put on a display of aerial strength in the Pacific, nearly half-way between the United States and Japan.

The two moves were not directly related, but both appeared to be directed at the Axis and particularly at Japan.

The publicity that the army gave to the mass flight of 21 latest model "flying fortress" bombers to Hawaii for stationing there was considered by some to be designed to impress Japan.

Senate Committee Will Investigate Shortage of Aluminum.

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The senate committee investigating the national defense program today extended its inquiry into the causes of the aluminum shortage at request of Sen. Wallgren (D., Wash.) a member of the committee.

Sen. Truman (D., Mo.) chairman of the committee, said the committee would probe "public announcements" that the aluminum industry was equipped to take care of defense and civilian needs.

First Contest Looms In City Primary, Miller to Run Again

The first contest in the August municipal primary in Mansfield developed today when Council President Howard G. Miller, a Democrat, obtained petitions for re-nomination for the same office.

Councilman George Berg has already announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for council president.

Miller's move also eliminated him as a possible mayoralty candidate. He had been mentioned as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for mayor along with two or three others. Miller could not be reached today for comment.

Miller is the third Democrat to take out petitions for the municipal primary. Atty. Leslie K. Wagner has announced he will run for city solicitor and Councilman Jake Kutschall is seeking re-nomination in the Fourth ward.

With only one Republican definitely in the race so far, the G.O.P. picture was unchanged today. Paul Bush, candidate for the Republican nomination for council in the Sixth ward, is the only candidate on either ticket who has filed his petition with the board of elections.

Republican Mayor William J. Locke is still silent on his political plans, but G.O.P. leaders said today they believe he will seek re-election.

Election board clerks said they anticipate a pick-up in political activity in the city and a flood of requests for petitions before the end of May. The filing deadline is June 13.

DETROIT AND FLINT PLANTS HIT BY TIE-UP

Mediation Board Announces Delay Agreement Short Time Before Strike.

GET WORD TOO LATE

Union Says Defense Orders Not Hit But Company Officials Disagree.

Operations in four General Motors units at Flint ceased this morning despite the announced postponement of strike action against the corporation by the United Automobile workers (CIO). Upwards of 35,000 workers in Chevrolet, Buick and two Fisher Body plants were affected.

Officials of the UAW-CIO said the union workers apparently were unaware of the postponement of the strike.

T. A. Johnstone, of the union's General Motors department, said here that the suspension was due "to signals being crossed" and added that efforts are being made in Washington "to get these men back to work." He said that although the four General Motors plants were idle this morning "it does not necessarily mean that the strike will continue."

Approximately 8,500 hourly rated workers of the Hudson Motor Car company were idle as a long threatened strike against the company's three plants here became effective at 7 a. m. today.

The defense mediation board early this morning, only a few hours before a strike was set for 60 plants of General Motors in 22 states, announced a postponement for one day in the walkout.

Union officials said work on a $10,000,000 defense order for airplane parts was not affected at the Hudson company.

The union demanded a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase in unrevealed current scales at the Hudson company. The board of directors considered the union demands. Claude E. Bland, president of the local union, said "the company

BOGUS MONEY

F. B. I. To Check Counterfeit Bill Found In Lucas.

Discovery of a counterfeit five-dollar bill in Lucas yesterday had launched an investigation today by F. B. I. officers from Cleveland who linked the spurious bill with a ring of counterfeiters said to be operating out of Cleveland.

Deputy Sheriff Glenn Freeman said the bill, a poor imitation, was reported by the Lucas State bank. Officials at the bank said it was turned in with other bills by a business establishment in the village.

Freeman called the F. B. I. which said an investigator would be sent to Lucas immediately. The federal officers said a number of the bills in five, ten, and twenty-dollar denominations have been found in recent weeks in northeastern Ohio, and the F. B. I. already is investigating in the Cleveland area.

COUNTY G. O. P. MAPS PROTEST

Leaders Prepare To Protest If State Makes Proposed Redistricting Shift.

Aroused by a proposal to shift Richland county from the Republican 27th-29th state senatorial district to a new district that probably would be Democratic, Richland county G. O. P. leaders prepared today to protest to state officials against the proposed shift.

Ralph M. Hardy, county executive committee chairman, said he would contact Gov. John W. Bricker's office for more information on the proposal and then file a protest if it appeared likely that the redistricting plan would be approved.

The proposal already has the informal approval of two of the state reapportionment commission, made up of Gov. Bricker, Secretary of State John Sweeney, and State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson. It needs only the governor's approval to become effective. Sweeney and Ferguson favor it.

The plan would put Richland county in a new 29th-31st district

INSPECT PORT

WPA Officials To Check on Proposed Improvements.

WPA authorities, headed by D. E. Matheny, district director of aeronautics, was scheduled to make an inspection of Mansfield's municipal airport this afternoon to determine the cost of several major improvements.

Members of the Mansfield chapter of the National Aeronautical association are planning to sponsor the raising of the city's share of the cost of a WPA project to give the airport hard-surfaced runways, an administration building and lighting facilities.

City officials and association members have contacted WPA authorities to obtain their approval of such a project. The inspection today will be the basis for WPA consideration of the request.

If recommended by that group, an application will be made to headquarters at Washington and the local association will launch its drive to raise the city's share which would approximate $50,000.

British Labor Minister Calls Nazi Murderer

Churchill Delays Report on Strange Incident as Berlin Sources Assert Fuehrer Won't Make Speech on It; Hamilton Cleared.

(By Associated Press)

British Labor Minister Ernest Bevin said today that he believed Nazi Deputy Fuehrer Rudolf Hess flew to Scotland with the full knowledge of Adolf Hitler, but that he doubted Hess came "out of mad sympathy for the British people."

In the first outspoken official comment on the bizarre episode, Biven declared:

"From my point of view, Herr Hess is a murderer.

"You can understand my feeling when I tell you he was the man who collected an index card on every trade union leader in Germany and the Social Democrats, and when the time came, they were either sent to concentration camps or murdered."

Bevin hinted broadly that Hess' concern was for the German people—not the British—as a result of Nazi casualties in the Balkans and death and destruction wrought by RAF bombs on Germany itself.

The labor minister's comment on the Hess mystery came as British middle east headquarters announced officially that German planes have landed in French-mandated Syria, while other reports said units of the Luftwaffe were en route to aid Iraq.

In Berlin, Nazi sources said it was not expected that Reichsfuehrer Hitler would make a speech to the German people on the Hess affair.

In London, Prime Miister Churchill told the house of commons that he would report at the first opportunity on the Rudolf Hess incident but that he would "be guided in the selection of that opportunity by the public interest."

Pressed to explain a delay of 48 hours in the original British announcement of Hess' parachute arrival, Churchill said, "it (the delay) certainly was not unfortunate, but if it had been unfortunate it would have been unavoidable.

"First of all we had to establish the identity of the injured German airman who had landed, and we only had evidence which, while it was very interesting, could not be considered conclusive in view of the surprising character of the information."

Churchill said "I did not believe it when I was told in the course of Sunday. I think it was, but I immediately sent an officer who knew the deputy fuehrer and was able to speak with him in fluent German.

"While that was still proceeding, the German announcement came out as to the insanity of the deputy fuehrer and his flight to Scotland. In these circumstances what had hitherto been a surmise or probability, merged into definite certainty."

Laborite Arthur Woodburn, a Scot, asked, "Is there any truth in the inference suggested by the German wireless that the intelligence department has created the impression in Germany that Scotland is ready to make a separate peace with Germany?"

Churchill replied, "Whatever delusions may exist, that is not among them."

Authoritative quarters in London spiced the Hess riddle by declining to confirm unofficial but censor-passed reports that the Nazi deputy fuehrer, in defiance of Adolf Hitler's orders, flew to Britain as a self-constituted "apostle of peace."

The new twist further complicated the war's strangest story. These facts emerged:

1. A British radio spokesman first hinted broadly that Hess was divulging vital German military secrets by declaring he was talking and writing "words which will make the German high command sweat."

2. The Berlin radio subsequently insisted that Hess, suffering a "Messiah complex," flew to the Scottish estate of the Duke of Hamilton, an old friend, in the

IMPLIED: Turkey Gets Hint To Abandon British Alliance

(By United Press)

ANKARA—Adolf Hitler's letter to Turkish President Gen. Ismet Inonu, delivered yesterday by German Ambassador Franz von Papen, repeated friendly assurances to Turkey but implied that the time has come for Turkey to abandon her alliance with Britain and line up with the Axis "new order in Europe," it was learned today.

It was understood that the letter drew attention to German occupation of Greece and the Greek islands and suggested that the occupation and other events had doomed British power in the Near East.

Officially, the government did not disclose details of the visit paid by Papen to Inonu. A communique issued last night said merely:

"Von Papen, the ambassador of Germany and bearer of a friendly message from the chief of the German state, Hitler, was received today by the president of the Turkish republic, Inonu. Saracoglu was present."

Sukru Saracoglu is the Turkish foreign minister.

Hitler's letter, it was understood, did not contain specific proposals. It was reported to have repeated the lengthy friendly assurances sent by Hitler to Inonu several weeks ago after a visit to Ankara by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

INFILTRATION: Report Nazi Planes Arrive In Syria, Iraq

(By United Press)

CAIRO—The middle east command reported today that "a certain number of German aircraft" have now arrived in Iraq.

The middle east command did not indicate how many German planes had arrived.

However, it said that the planes have brought into Iraq "propagandists, agitators, and similar specialists."

The revelation by the middle eastern command followed reports from Syria that German infiltration by air into Syria is now under way.

(London reported that a strong British warning has been dispatched to Vichy that German aircraft will be attacked in Syria if they are found at Syrian airports.)

British Warn They Will Bomb Planes

LONDON —(AP)— A reliable source said today that German planes are landing in Syria enroute to Iraq and that they would be bombed and machine-gunned by the British.

There was no immediate amplification of the report that Germans were using the French mandate in the Near East to rush reinforcements to Premier Raschid Ali Al Gallani of Iraq.

British reports from Cairo yesterday said, however, that a "German mission" had arrived in Syria. The purpose of the mission at the time was not explained.

SAYS HESS HAD O.K. ON FLIGHT TO SCOTLAND

British Labor Minister Calls No. 3 Nazi 'Murderer' In Statement.

hope of bringing about an end to the war.

3. Informed British quarters then accepted this version—only to have it cast in doubt by high officials.

Churchill had been expected to make a statement on the case today, but it was later reported that he had decided to postpone it—apparently wanting more information from the deputy fuehrer before laying the whole affair before parliament.

A highly placed American source in London declared that Hess' arrival constituted a "threat" to the defense of the British Isles and that he might be the harbinger of new, smashing attacks by the German military machine.

Blaming the British for casting "too rosy a glow" on the incident, this source said that it might "lull people and soften them for new blows by Germany."

On the action front, a British middle east headquarters communique said Axis warplanes "continuously" attacked the Island of Crete and the British naval base there, at Suda bay, May 12 and 13.

Hitler's high command said the Nazi Luftwaffe "effectively bombed military objectives on the islands of Malta and Crete by day and night," destroying 15 British planes on the ground in attacks on two Crete airports and shooting down eight others in fights over the island.

The Germans also asserted that Nazi dive-bombers effectively interfered with Allied troops' landings in Suda bay.

In the battle of the Atlantic a German U-boat was credited with sinking a "well-armed" 20,000-ton British auxiliary cruiser.

Bad weather kept the Luftwaffe and the RAF at home last night but the British censor permitted disclosure that St. James' palace, Lambeth palace, the Old Bailey, Queen's hall, St. Clement Danes church and the Salvation Army headquarters had been damaged in recent raids on London

Dispatches from Cairo said British naval planes, striking at Axis supply lines, bombed an Africa-bound convoy in the Mediterranean and sank an 8,000-ton merchant ship. An Axis destroyer, guarding the convoy, was also reported hit, "with clouds of smoke pouring from it."

A British communique said the fleet air arm also joined in the Iraq fighting. Attacking barracks at Amara, on the Tigris river and other objectives

An Iraq communique said a lone RAF raider droned over Baghdad, the capital, and dropped a number of bombs.

On the African war front, Premier Mussolini's high command acknowledged that British troops were exerting heavy pressure on surviving Italian columns in all sections of Ethiopia—particularly in the Amba Alagi sector, where the British claim 38,000 Italians are trapped with little hope of escape.

'Our troops are resisting with extreme fury," the Fascist communique declared.

Reliable sources in London said that Germany was rushing planes to reinforce the Iraq government of Premier Rashid Ali Al Gailani and that the Nazi aircraft were landing in French-mandated Syria en route to Iraq

These quarters said the Germans would be bombed and machine-gunned by the British.

British Clear Hamilton in Flight

LONDON —(INS)— British authorities today gave the Duke of Hamilton, famous sportsman and airman whom Rudolf Hess flew to Scotland to see, a "clean bill of health."

The Duke was described as "above suspicion," since months ago he turned over to the intelligence division the letters which Hess addressed to him, and after meeting Hess in Scotland over the week-end, he sent a full report to Prime Minister Churchill.

Say Hess Lured by Sportsmanship

BERLIN —(AP)— An informed German source suggested today that faith in British sportsmanship may have prompted Rudolf Hess to believe that Britain would be ready for peace if he could convince her that her cause was lost.

This source recalled a speech by Hess last Feb. 28 in which he was quoted as saying that "it is Germany's wish to settle pending questions in the spirit in which youths . . . participate in sports competition."

Thus, this informant commented, Hess "trusted in the spirit of English fairness in sports when he believed that also in political matters it would suffice merely that he advice the English personally that their cause was lost, to make them ready for peace."

German Press Drops Strange Hess Story

BERLIN —(INS)— The German press today virtually dropped the Rudolf Hess case. Official quarters took the attitude the whole affair will soon be forgotten

Chancellor Hitler for the time being will not—contrary to predictions yesterday—make a public speech on the Hess affair refused any decent wage offer."

The General Motors postponement came shortly after settlement of a two day strike at Colt's Patent Fire Arms Manufacturing company at Hartford, Conn.

William S. Knudsen, chief of the office of production management, termed the GM situation "damn serious."

The mediation board announced that the management of General Motors had until 4:10 a. m. (EST) Friday to accept or reject the findings and recommendations which the board made for settlement. The findings and recommendations will not be made public, the board announced, until they have been accepted or rejected by the corporation.

Representatives of the CIO United Automobile Workers, it was added, have accepted the terms "without reservation" but subject to ratification by the union membership.

The announcement came at dawn, with the negotiators haggard after 18 hours of almost unbroken conferences.

Nub of the controversy appeared to be the union's demand for a general wage boost of 10 cents an hour. The corporation has said the present wage average is slightly more than $1 an hour, and made the union a counter-offer of two cents increase generally, with greater increases for certain skilled ratings.

General Motors has about $750,000,000 in defense contracts, but union leaders declared that only $160,000,000 of the orders were in plants which would be affected by a strike. Even in those plants, the union said defense work would not be interfered with. But company officials asserted that defense and non-defense work could not be segregated.

With settlement of the Colt strike at Hartford, 5,600 munitions workers were ordered back to their jobs after a two-day tie-up in the nation's largest machine gun factory.

Robert F. Mintz, organizer for the CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, announced that the terms of settlement added $2,000,000 annually in increased wages and liberalized vacation schedules. It approved a flat wage increase of seven cents an hour, he said, with a minimum of 45 cents an hour for women employes and 50 cents for men.

The company said hourly wage scales had been between 50 cents and $1.20 but Mintz contended some employes got as little as 37 cents an hour.

A strike which had held up construction of a $30,000,000 naval drydock in Boston was settled, but shipyard strikes in the San Francisco bay area continued to tie up $560,000,000 worth of naval construction.

The west coast shipyard strikers, who include both CIO and AFL machinists, ask a wage increase from $1 to $1.15 an hour, and retention of double pay for overtime.

A strike was called for Monday morning by 1,500 AFL members at the Johns-Manville Corporation plant, Manville, N. J. The union members ask a wage increase of 15 cents an hour. Present basic pay is 60 cents an hour for men, 55 for women. The company management said that half of present orders totalling $25,000,000 are for national defense supplies

Rumblings of new labor trouble continued in the soft coal industry, while bituminous operators made ready to confer today with representatives of the CIO United Mine Workers. John L. Lewis, union president, has declared that if a wage agreement with southern operators could not be reached this week, the union would be forced to consider a work stoppage throughout the eight-state Appalachian district.

PHILADELPHIA HIT BY BLAZE

6-Alarm Fire Destroys Homes and Lumber Yard In Industrial Area.

chine shop The roof was ignited by the flying sparks, but firemen confined the blaze to the upper portion of the building, located about a quarter mile from the main plant.

One death was caused indirectly by the fire. A physician, Dr. Pedro Carreros, was killed when his automobile crashed into a light pole while he was speeding to the scene.

Deputy Fire Chief George Ferrier collapsed, and was taken to St. Mary's hospital for treatment for exhaustion. Approximately 50 other firemen were treated at first aid stations for minor injuries.

Thousands of persons living in the immediate section were forced from their homes by the billowing smoke from thousands of feet of burning lumber

A huge red glare from the inferno lit up the early morning sky and could be seen 25 miles away as the flames raced through the homes and buildings uncontrolled

Seek Cause of Big Pier Shed Blaze

SAN PEDRO, Cal.—(INS)—Federal and civilian authorities today sought the cause of a $200,000 fire which late yesterday destroyed four blocks of pier sheds, the Los Angeles harbor department offices and five small vessels

The possibility that sabotage was responsible was being studied by federal bureau of investigation agents, army and navy intelligence officers and fire department officials Valuable records of the harbor department, the army engineer's office and the government weather bureau were destroyed by the flames.

Two men were burned and two seriously hurt while battling the fire, which was extinguished through the combined efforts of firemen and 300 sailors from nearby Reeves field navy air base.

Mysterious Fire Destroys Steamer

BALTIMORE, Md — (INS) — A mysterious six-alarm fire today destroyed the 179-foot excursion steamer Tolchester and badly damaged three piers on the Baltimore waterfront.

The blaze broke out aboard the boat, owned by the Tolchester Steamship company, and quickly spread to the piers. Federal bureau of investigation agents were ordered to investigate the disaster.

Three crew members aboard the vessel managed to escape without harm. Eight firemen, however, were hurt in battling the blaze. Two fireboats pulled the blazing steamer into midstream where it was totally destroyed. Officials said it would cost $500,000 to replace the vessel, and that the piers would cost additional "thousands."

The steamer, which carried 2,850 passengers when fully loaded, plied between Baltimore and Tolchester, a popular summer resort on Chesapeake bay.

with Ashland, Crawford, Seneca, and Wyandot counties. At least two of the other four counties—Crawford and Seneca—are Democratic along with Richland and would be enough to swing the district to the Democrats.

Both Hardy and Earl A. McFarland, Republican state central committeeman from the 17th congressional district, admitted that the shift probably would mean the election of a Democratic state senator in the new district.

McFarland added, however, that he believed "nothing can be done about it if the plan is already set up."

In the present 27th-29th district with Richland county are Lorain, Ashland, and Medina counties. The district's two senators are P. H. Rogers and Joseph Jameson, both Republicans from Lorain county.

Sweeney and Ferguson said yesterday they would not approve the proposal over the objections of Gov. Bricker's only Republican member of the committee, and they were willing to discuss any proposed changes with him.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO THURSDAY, MAY 15, 1941.

In the old poem it was "Over the Hill to the Poorhouse"—but now it may be just around the corner.

This is the season in which habitual lethargy is given the less opprobrious designation of "spring fever."

One medical authority says: "Sleeping outdoors will sometimes cure insomnia"—but an insomniac will probably find the "sleeping" part of it rather difficult.

Time Out for Vacation Trip

LOOKING around, in anticipation of a vacation, and keeping in mind the suggestion, "See America First," there's the rather difficult problem of deciding which part of America to see first.

Listening to the expression of many views indicating widely varied opinions as to most desirable vacation spots leads to the conclusion that the attractiveness of any particular place is largely a matter of individual taste, instead of general appeal.

There are those, for instance, who are attracted mainly by "good fishing" and who are looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to a trip to Canada, Minnesota, or some other favorite fishing place, where a couple of weeks in "the great outdoors" will give them rest, relaxation and renewed vigor.

Others are planning a jaunt down through Virginia, Tennessee and the Carolinas, with possibly a swing through Washington, D. C., and some eastern cities.

Many prefer a vacation trip through the south, either directly to Florida or further west, to include Mississippi and Louisiana, while thousands regard the New England states as ideal for either a short or long stay, with Quebec, Montreal and Toronto conveniently accessible and always interesting.

Whether a trip is to be made by auto, bus, train, plane, boat—or a combination of these means of transportation—"See America First" seems to be too large an order to be filled within ordinarily allotted vacation time. If the attractions of America are to be thoroughly "seen," from east to west and from north to south, it may be doubted if any opportunity will be found for foreign travel.

Possibly the best thing might be to get in the car some nice morning and then decide on the direction in which to start.

Rationing Comes Close

THE WAR has begun to hit Americans in surprising places. The housewife learns that she cannot obtain her favorite Dutch cocoa much longer, or certain imported figs. Her husband learns that briar pipes are no longer being imported and that mountain laurel root is to be the substitute. The best briar wood came from France. The laurel grows in our own eastern mountains.

Materials for some of the finest violins came from abroad, notably the spruce used for sounding boards. American spruce is said to be too soft and therefore not resilient enough. The European spruce came from the mountain slopes of central and southeastern Europe. Good violins can be made in the United States but it will be some time before their production can be brought to the same stage it had already reached abroad.

These instances could be multiplied. None of them may yet be considered serious. They reveal chiefly in how many ways this great, so-called "independent nation" really depends on other lands and peoples for a great variety of products.

There are more important shortages such as rubber, tungsten, magnesium, etc., about which steps have already been taken. The essential things we must have. The lesser ones we'll just learn to do without for a while.

Senate Loses Earlier Glamour

A WOMAN who, passing through Washington, dropped into the senate, to see that branch of government in operation, went home shocked and disillusioned. She found less than a dozen senators in the chamber. They were almost as casual and informal as if it had been a social club. The vice president, presiding, was almost asleep in his chair. Two or three senators spoke, in a rambling and informal way, as if they were merely engaged in conversation. Nothing seemed to matter much.

The visitor, sadly relating her disappointment to friends at home, was cheered a little by explanations that the senate really has men of ability and talent, but that oratory isn't what it used to be, and that senatorial business is mostly transacted in the senators' own offices. But anyone pondering on such matters can't help regretting the decadence of our legislative bodies in the art of public oratory and debate. Statesmen as business men are useful, but not glamorous.

There are compensations, no doubt. A lot of old-fashioned oratory was froth, bunk and wild-eyed politics. Sober, unimpassioned addresses are more enlightening than the Patrick Henry and Daniel Webster style, although less inspiring.

Revival In Horseback Riding

THE "RIDING ACADEMY" is today's version of the livery stable that flourished just before the automobile. In very few of such academies is instruction given in horseback riding, although it could probably be arranged for a patron if he wished. Most of them simply having riding horses for hire.

The academies are flourishing in this country. Far from putting the horse out of business, the automobile appears simply to have opened a different field of usefulness for it. People of all ages and varied financial means flock to the stables every fine Sunday and many week-day afternoons. They can go far out of the city—in their automobiles—to rent a horse and ride over country roads or park district bridle-paths.

In some places there aren't enough horses to meet the demand. Interest in this recreation has grown amazingly and nobody seems to have the explanation for it. "It used to be that just a few people cared for horses," says the proprietor of one academy. "Now it seems that everybody wants to ride."

This may be considered one of the more satisfactory fads to which the American people are subject.

It is remarked that people are becoming "more tax conscious"—just at a time when unconsciousness might make it easier.

THIS KIND OF STRIKING IS NEEDED

Taxes to Squeeze Middle Class

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

THOUGHTS—I'd call 'em nightmares, only nightmares are mere figments, and these thoughts are the real thing—

Thoughts, then, of next year's taxes (and of the ensuing year's thereafter as long as our generation and generation after generation of our descendants live) don't prey on my mind alone.

Chairman Ellsworth C. Alvord of the United States commerce chamber's finance committee gave it as his opinion, at the chamber's recent convention in Washington, that the treasury department's pending taxation program, if adopted by congress, will "liquidate the American middle class." By the middle class, he said he meant all families on incomes of from $2,000 to $20,000.

Being myself a middle classer (a deal nearer the $2,000 than to the $20,000 rating), I don't like the idea of being liquidated.

These national trade and industrial organizations, such as the U. S. commerce chamber and the American Manufacturers' association, have been considerably criticized in the past, as plutocratic and monopolistic, but they're developing now quite democratically, evidently in a realization of the fact that it won't be to their own plutocratic and monopolistic advantage (supposing 'em to be so) to have the great middle class, from which they've had the bulk of their profits, wiped off the map.

Financier Alvord's calculation is that our middle class can stand a taxation rate so computed as to meet, currently, 30 per cent of our emergency expenditures, leaving the other 70 per cent as a debt, piled up against posterity. But Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the federal reserve board, who has had a lot to do with treasury reckonings, wants to meet two-thirds of our expenditures currently, leaving only one-third as an increased national debt.

Inflation Likely.

On that basis, predicts Financier Alvord, goodby to our middle class. Its tax payments will clean it out.

But, reasons Reserve Boardsmen Eccles, if our debt mounts as Financier Alvord suggests, inflation will follow. That is, prices will skyhoot. The middle class' living costs will go up out of sight. Other classes' prices will fly upward, too. However, the industrial workers, perhaps with some difficulty, will get wage increases, more or less balancing their budgets. But the middle classers, on fixed incomes, will be in the soup.

It's an argument between economists. To a middle class bystander, like me, it sounds as if we're stuck either way.

The income tax, as I've had occasion to remark hitherto, obviously will soak us worst. We can economize on purchases (which is just what government economists like Leon Henderson want us to do) thus somewhat offsetting excises and sales and nuisance levies but there's no economizing on an income impost.

With this idea in mind Representative Harry Southoff of Wisconsin and Charles S. Dewey of Illinois have suggested a kind of revenue stamp that can be bought weekly or monthly and saved up to turn in, in full payment when the evil day for footing the bill arrives. Oh yes, an income taxpayer can ante his coming March 15 total into a special account or into a home savings bank, day by day or week by week or month by month, as he goes along. Only precious few do it.

A good many of 'em might have the foresight to buy a regular weekly or monthly revenue stamp. Then they wouldn't be regularly and so severely jolted once annually—or quarterly, if they pay cash in instalments. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau tentatively thinks it's a fairly good scheme and is studying it.

Also there's a proposed governmental checkoff—the employer to hold out Uncle Sam's share from each wage envelope he hands over to an employe.

Listen World!

The Case of Bug Eye

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

TO AMERICAN INDUSTRY—We've been friends for a long time and I'm not busting into any brawl with the following letter. It's a real plea from a real kid who's speaking for thousands like himself. He needs your help, not as leaders of business but as Big Brothers. You and I have known the bitter pinch of poverty. We know how desperately bewildered a kid can get, and how hard it is for even a grown man to fight the breaks as they are. Have you an answer for these buffeted little tads they call "The Dead End Kids?" Have you a hand for "Bug Eye?"

ELSIE.

FOLKS, meet Bug Eye!

No, you wouldn't know Bug Eye. He lives—and definitely—on the other side of the tracks. And though he is only sixteen, he has practically nothing in common with your own cherished darling of the same age. For Bug Eye is what we've come to call "A Dead End Kid" and he's more than willing to tell the cockeyed world how he got that way and what he wants to do about it. His reasons are interesting.

This America is going to have to do something about them, and soon.

"First off," says Bug Eye, "I don't think much of this Dead End name. You'd think we was some kinda funny wild animal. Kids is kids and it ain't our fault if some of us don't live in pent houses. We don't like hangin' out in the kind of dumps we got any better than other fellows would and we don't like to have the cops chasin' us all the time, either. All we want is a fair break and we'd make good. But what kind of a chance do we get?

"Yeah, I know, everyone thinks we oughtta go to school like good boys. But didja ever try sittin' in school, tryin' to study, with nothin' in your belly but a banana—and you had to snitch that? Being hungry does something to a fellow—fuzzes him up. How's he going to be interested in some old book with an ache like that inside him?

"Besides, the way most of us boys have to live, we don't care about books. Maybe we get wised up to the real facts too early and books seem sissy. At any rate, what's there in it for kids like us, even if we do go to school reg'lar? Diplomas ain't what we want. You can't eat a diploma.

"What we want is jobs: jobs so we can eat regular and get some decent clothes for ourselves and take our girls to a movie or a dance onct in a while. And maybe save up for a car.

"Me and the other fellows have been readin' about all these conferences the club women and the teachers and the judges have been havin' about us 'Dead End Kids,' and how they think we oughtta have a lot more playgrounds and games. Well, maybe they mean well, but those plans sure give us the laugh. Why, we got through playin' games way back when we was babies, eight or nine years old. Games ain't going to help us none. They're for softies.

"If we could go to school, even part time, and maybe learn some really useful work the rest of the time, it would be jake. A fellow could put his mind on a plan like that. It doesn't seem much to want, does it? But here's the jinx. If a fellow wants to learn how to make planes, for instance, he needs to go into a factory . . . these high school courses are mostly a joke. But can he get into a factory? Not on your life.

"THEY WON'T TAKE HIM ON UNTIL HE HAS HAD EXPERIENCE. BUT HOW CAN HE GET EXPERIENCE IF NO ONE WILL GIVE HIM A START?

"Miss Robinson, I don't know nothing about union affairs or schools either. But I do know that a lot of us kids need a break. We aren't born wanting to be law breakers. We'd like to live regular, like other fellows. We're just natural. We want things like any fellow has a right to expect, but there's no way to get them. Can't the people who run the game make a place for us.

"CAN'T THEY STOP MAKING A DEAD END AND SHOVING US KIDS INTO IT?

Your Friend,
'BUG EYE."

Pointed Paragraphs

Drug Concern Gives Nazis Access To Foreign Exchange In America

—By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Yesterday The Washington Merry-Go-Round revealed how, through war risk insurance on shipping, the United States was supplying the Axis with large sums of money and vital military information on the movement of cargoes.

Here is another disclosure of how one American pharmaceutical company alone last year poured $2,235,000 into foreign exchange channels readily accessible to the Nazis.

The firm is the Schering Corporation of Bloomfield, N. J., manufacturers of highly complex biologicals and serums used by physicians throughout the world. One of these products is anti-shock serum, an essential for the army medical corps. Justice department sleuths, tracking down sources of German revenue in this country, have disclosed these interesting facts:

Up to 1936 the Schering firm was German-owned. But in 1936 the stock held by Germans was sold to a Swiss banking corporation known as Chefa, which now holds large interests in Schering companies throughout the globe. Justice agents are investigating reports that Chefa is German-controlled.

When the stock transfer took place, New Jersey Schering entered into an agreement with the parent Schering company in Germany not to engage in the export business anywhere in the world. It promised to confine its operations solely to the United States, leaving the German concern and its subsidiaries a completely free hand in other markets.

Blockade "Conditions."

THEN came the war and the British blockade. The parent Schering firm in Germany no longer could ship its medicines to South America. So the New Jersey company was given "permission" to move into this field—but only on three conditions. These were as follows:

1. That the U. S. firm deal only through agents of the parent Schering firm in South America.

2. That all labels be printed so that the packages and trade marks exactly resemble those formerly supplied from Germany.

3. That the profits of this business be split, the lion's share going to the Swiss holding company.

As a result, New Jersey Schering, with a total capitalization of less than $500,000, last year turned over a net profit of $2,235,000 to Chefa.

Note—Key man in the justice department's war industries investigation is Edward P. Hodges, brilliant young anti-trust attorney who will shortly publish his first book, "The Supreme Court and Section One of the Sherman Act."

Stolen Tonsils.

DEMOCRATIC glamour girl Evie Robert (Mrs. Chip Robert on more formal occasions) was sitting in the lounge of the Mayflower hotel. Suddenly she pointed across the room.

"There's Julian Greene," she said, "and I have a notion to have him arrested. He stole my tonsils.

"We were in the same hospital having our tonsils out, and I sent my tonsils in to his room so he could see them. And I haven't got them back yet. Mine were bigger than his and he stole them."

Steel Shortage.

THOSE "business as usual" chickens of the $1-a-year men are still coming home to roost—and to plague the progress of armament production.

Everybody now knows about the grave shortage in aluminum, due to failure to get new plants started in time. Recently this column also revealed that an 800,000-kilowatt power shortage was expected by 1942, when defense production is scheduled to reach its peak.

Latest inside word is that a similar situation is developing in steel—a commodity vital to every phase of the defense program. A serious steel shortage would be disastrous to both the United States and Britain.

Like aluminum, the question of steel capacity has been a hot behind-the-scenes controversy for months. As early as last summer, some defense experts urged immediate expansion of plant facilities. The industry, backed by One Dollar Men denied that this was necessary, insisted there was ample productive capacity to meet demands.

Finally, after many weeks of argument, Gano Dunn, head of the J. G. White Engineering Corporation, was asked to make an impartial report on steel, and his findings, in effect, upheld the steel makers' contention that new plants were not needed.

However, as a hedge, he promised another report in three months to keep abreast of developments. This report is due in a few weeks, but meanwhile a lot has been happening on the steel front.

30,000,000 Tons Short.

DUNN'S report estimated steel requirements in 1942 at 91,000,000 tons. But the private estimates of OPM experts, based on the expected expansion of the defense program, now go as high as 120,000,000 tons, or about 30,000,000 tons more than Dunn's total.

Inside word in the steel industry is that Dunn will boost his first estimate to 100 or 110 million tons. But even if he does, this will still be at least 10 million short of what the OPM experts say will be needed. If they are right, the only solution will be a drastic curtailment of steel for civilian purposes.

That is what is happening in aluminum, and it may happen in steel even before 1942. Rear Admiral Samuel M. Robinson, chief of the Bureau of Ships, predicted this last week before the House Naval Affairs committee.

"There is not enough steel in this country for everything," he warned bluntly. 'Steel is going to have to be rationed like aluminum. That is a question that has got to be decided soon."

Note—It takes from 15 to 18 months to build a blast furnace, from 8 to 12 months for an open hearth furnace, and from 4 to 6 months for an electric furnace. This does not include possible delays in securing construction materials.

C. R. T., Des Moines—The fact that Eastern Republicans spread their contributions over the country is indicated by the following contributions to the Nevada State Republican Central Committee: Lammot duPont, $4,000; Wm. H. Harkness, $3,000; Sarah Fleischman, $1,000. . . . D. O. F., Minneapolis—The Army's Morale Division says there's no truth in the rumor of suicides at the rate of one a day in the draft army. In fact, they have not heard of any suicides at all. . . . F. A. Y., Tulsa, Okla.—The rumor you report, that Frances Perkins' niece is the wife of Harry Bridges, is entirely false.

NEW YORK—West 44th Street at 6th Avenue has become a bargain center for those who like jewelry made from shells . . . Nassau buble shell, periwinkle from Haiti, curved bamboo and hoodoo beads from Haiti, Indian shell-bead work from Mexico, and sandalwood beads that retain their aromatic scent are displayed . . . Also white beads from Panama and bracelets of mangrove from Key West.

Fred Allen sums up H. Allen Smith thusly, "He is a waste of skin . . . At a cannibal's buffet he would be hors d'oeuvre . . . When he dreams he only has time for a synopsis . . . He was the first man to discover that you can cut a sleeping pill in half and enjoy a nap." Smith is a N. Y. newspaperman who has confessed his experiences in a book titled "Low Man on a Totem Pole." . . . Allen's appraisal of Smith, which runs to hundreds of words, is to be found in the preface, contributed by Allen himself.

Clifford Odets, since the collapse of the Group Theater, seems moody and morose; at least, he gives this impression in public. . .

ONE of those interesting fellows you meet around New York is a Mexican waiter in a 46th street restaurant named Ramon Vijos. He fought in the Mexican revolution with Villa and in several other revolutions in South America. Villa's rattlesnake pit, he says, actually existed. Villa's remedy for political doubters was to toss them into the pit where the snakes could get at them.

Winston Churchill's former secretary says in her reminiscenses, "I Was Churchill's Secretary," that the Prime Minister once had a "crush" on Ethel Barrymore. That was years ago when Miss Barrymore was the toast of London. In those days there were many who felt that way about the actress.

She says herself that once she fell in love with a poor and struggling musician, which prompted her to send this cable to her father, Maurice Barrymore: "Am in love with an unhappy musician. We have decided to get married and be miserable together."

Maurice cabled back, "Congratulations."

A week later Ethel cabled her father again, "All off between us. No marriage."

Again Maurice cabled back, "Congratulations."

WITH Paris now overrun by Germans one wonders what has happened to Arthur Lee's "Volupte," a famous torso delicately fashioned in rose marble. Lee did Volupte in Paris during the First World War. His model was the fiancee of a French officer who was at the front. He had finished the torso and was preparing the delicate task of modeling the head when the fiance returned on furlough. She never came back to pose again.

A Farmer's Diary

Crested Fly Catcher

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

ALONG a back road I came upon an orchard surrounding an old-time dwelling. Many of the trees were old; tops were broken off and cavities were in evidence. The living branches that remained bloomed and had half their petals still on. A breath of wind blew drifting petals across my path like snow.

Far to the south, along the border of a field, I heard the outcry of a crested flycatcher. From a distance it sounded sweeter than I had ever heard. It was repeated twice. I stood, forgetful of my surroundings, listening for more. The sound was like a sudden blast from a bugle—clear and penetrating. In that quiet old neglected orchard he was announcing the great spring awakening.

I have often listened to this call at closer range and found it almost discordant. It needed the right atmosphere to give it beauty. This dweller of the deeper woods had found the ancient orchard a suitable building site. I waited silently by a hollow snag while I watched him ferociously attack a noisy, sparring jay and drive it out of the orchard. As the pair flew close to where I stood, the flycatcher pounced heavily down upon the fleeing jay. I noted, mentally that I was glad I had heard him sing, for now his temper would not permit him to do so, soon again.

Presently he returned from driving his enemy off across the meadow and lit four rows beyond and 16 feet or so above the sod. I saw the nest within the hollow of a broken crotch.

He watched nervously as I slowly approached, and warned me with a low chirp that I was intruding. His erect crest and broad tail were clearly in my view as he flew away, leaving a dangling snakeskin swinging from the nest top. This decoration was wound around the nest and swung as a warning latch string for all comers. His mate, in modest garb, slipped noiselessly away in the other direction. To see the nest closer, I climbed the tree and tore my clothing and flesh on short, sharp knots in the wood. But when I reached the crotch and looked down on six creamy white eggs, scrawled all over with markings of lavender and lilac, and then marked with other straight lines, as if from a pen, I felt the tussle with the thorny bark was worth the trouble. The great crested flycatcher is a real individual.

Paint and Performance vs. Promises

What's behind the label...?

Because paint is only as good as it wears—and because it takes months and years to judge the true worth of any paint—the average man must accept the word and promise of the paint manufacturer for the soundness and honest quality of his product.

There are many and devious ways to promise you satisfaction with a paint. There are many and varied guarantees, some replete with high-sounding phrases and warranties—some that seem to have been written for the express purpose of providing for a manufacturer an excuse for the possible failure of his product.

Promises are easily made. Good paint and good performance are not. We believe an honestly made and honestly priced paint needs no excuses made for it—that is why this simple and easily understood statement accompanies the purchase of every Cochran Paint Product . . .

If at any time you are not satisfied with any Cochran Paint Product, your money will be refunded without question.

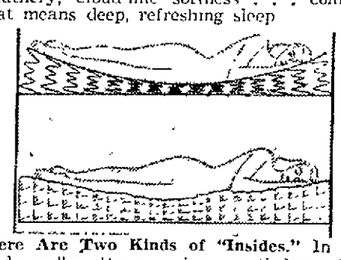
6 THINGS TO THINK ABOUT WHEN YOU BUY A MATTRESS

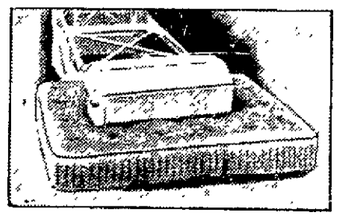
Don't Judge Comfort On Looks! It's what is inside a mattress that counts. The "insides" of Beautyrest are different. That's why Beautyrest gives a different kind of comfort. Feathery, cloud-like softness . . . comfort that means deep, refreshing sleep

Will It Stay "Fresh" Inside? Sit on a Beautyrest and feel the air puff out of ventilators that really work. These ventilators draw in fresh air . . . expel stale air. They keep the mattress fresh and clean inside.



There Are Two Kinds of "Insides." In the "ordinary" mattress, springs are tied together. When one goes down others go down too, making "sag" support. Beautyrest coils are individually pocketed. Each one acts independently. That's why Beautyrest cradles you gently and evenly . . . gives buoyant support.

How Will It Look . . . 10 Years from Now? After a few years, many mattresses have sagging, uncomfortable edges. Not the Beautyrest though. A patented sag-proof border keeps the Beautyrest smooth and trim throughout its life. And you need turn it only 4 or 5 times a year.



How Comfortable Will It Be . . . In 1951? Simmons guarantees 10 years' service from the Beautyrest. It will probably last longer. For the United States Testing Company tested 17 different makes of mattresses and the Beautyrest lasted 3 times longer than even the next best make.

How Much Does It Cost? $39.50 is down-right cheap for a Beautyrest. On the conservative 10-year guarantee, this comes down to only a penny a night. A penny a night for the refreshing Luxury Comfort of a Beautyrest. Think it over. And get the most for your mattress money.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

KIDNEY POISONS Real Threat To MEN PAST 40!

If bothered by FUNCTIONAL kidney and bladder weakness with its backache, getting up nights, scanty burning passage, lowered vitality, and "tell-tale" bags under eyes—to relieve these symptoms before they may develop into more serious trouble help kidneys flush out excess acids from the blood with famous GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules—same formula that for 200 years has helped MILLIONS!

GOLD MEDAL is one product you can buy today that actually helps put more healthful activity into such weakened kidneys. It brings amazing relief to so many—just see if it doesn't help YOU feel better, with perhaps more ambition than you dreamed possible!

Always demand genuine GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules if you want this one and only GOLD MEDAL formula that's PROVED its worth over 200 years.

DR. F. M. EDWARDS' DISCOVERY FOR CONSTIPATION

Benefits Nation of Sufferers!

COLUMBUS, OHIO: For over 20 years Dr. F. M. Edwards (widely known physician) successfully treated scores of patients for constipation and the headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness which often result.

This wise Doctor knew liver bile must flow freely every day into your intestines or fatty foods can't be properly digested and you may become constipated. So he kept this in mind when he perfected his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are wonderful, yet they assure gentle, thorough bowel movements and ALSO help stimulate bile flow. Test their goodness TONIGHT! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢.

For the past 15 years the church has been located on Wayne street in the section recently purchased by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company.

How to make horsepower out of Thin Air!

Buick SPECIAL 6-passenger Sedanet, $1006. White sidewall tires extra.★

JUST consider these plain facts about the engines in this 1941 Buick SPECIAL:

The engine that regularly powers this Series develops 115 horsepower and turns up 20.1 miles per gallon at a steady 30 miles an hour in Proving Ground economy tests.

But add Compound Carburetion,† and the same engine in the same model develops 125 horsepower and goes 21.5 miles per gallon by exactly the same tests!

There's more from less gasoline – and it comes, literally, out of thin air.

Because the two carburetors in this exclusive Buick feature handle a larger air volume than can be provided efficiently by a single mixer.

We'll let you figure out what extra power and extra mileage mean in extra fun, extra thrills, extra satisfaction.

We'll let you size up, too, how nice it is to travel farther more pleasantly – on as much as 10% to 15% less gasoline than former Buicks used.

But for the whole picture, just go get actual, local, delivered prices on a Buick.

You'll find that nowhere else can you buy the same size, the same style, the same power, the same comfort at the same low bargain Buick figures.

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $915 for the Business Coupe

†Available at slight extra cost on some Buick SPECIAL models, standard on all other Series.

GET HAND-OUT

Oklahoma Police Give Free Gasoline to Motorists.

NORMAN, Okla. — (INS) — Motorists stopped by state highway patrolmen near Norman one night recently had the surprise of their lives.

After being reprimanded for defective headlights, they were told: "Now, here's some free gasoline, if you'll use the money thus saved to have your lights fixed." And the officers filled the tanks.

A gasoline transport had been wrecked nearby and the gasoline flowed into a ditch. After the owners pumped out part of it, they told the officers to take the remainder. So the patrolmen, F. W. Pendleton and Hall V. Worthington, hit upon the scheme to further the cause of safety.

Women Bankers Are Described As Hard-Boiled

PITTSBURGH— (INS) — Women bankers are hard-boiled — more hard-boiled than men, in the opinion of Miss Emma E Claus, President of the Association of Bank Women.

On a recent visit to Pittsburgh, Miss Claus, who is secretary-treasurer, director and trust officer of the Bankers Trust company of Gary, Ind., declared:

"Women have a sympathetic understanding that men do not have, but they don't let their feelings get the upper hand. In fact, I believe women are a little bit tougher than the toughest of the men bankers."

Besides, she added, women inject an air of refinement into the human relationship between bank and customer that is "most beneficial to the bank." To buttress this point, she disclosed there were at least 3,000 women bank executives in the United States at the present time—something unheard of a quarter of a century ago.

'POST' OFFICERS WHO DON'T PAY

London Tailors Find Way To Collect Bills From Soldiers.

LONDON —(U P)— One London firm of military tailors has found a good way of collecting bills from army officers who are a little slow in paying.

The concern posts a list of defaulters in the window, giving names, units, and private addresses, with full details of the "offence" for the guidance of other tailors.

The tailors are Hedges and Palmer, of Queen Victoria street, E. C., and although the War Office does not approve of the system, it has already resulted in the firm recovering many of its outstanding debts.

Many of the defaulters fight shy of this shop window publicity and pay up before they are listed

Two days after the publication of the list, one of the officers had partly paid his bill, and four more, whose names were to be added, could hardly pay quickly enough.

S. W. Hedgecock, a principal of the firm, considers the lists have been responsible for the settlement of at least 50 per cent of the outstanding debts.

"We give officers every opportunity to pay, and allow them generous credit," he said "But there are some who have taken advantage of our terms"

Purebred Cattle From County to Be Shown In Iowa

P. G Ross, Mansfield, one of the state's leading breeders of Shorthorn cattle, will send four young animals to the first National Polled Shorthorn Congress show in Des Moines, Iowa, May 20 and 21, it was announced today. The Ross entries will be young heifers.

The cattle will compete for awards the first day of the congress and there will be a sale of purebred animals the following day. The congress will be at the Iowa State fairground.

A purebred Shorthorn heifer from the herd of Carl H. Stander, Mansfield, was among the 53 Shorthorn cattle recently exported to the Dominican Republic. Purchased by Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo, former president of the island republic, the animals will be used to improve the Shorthorn breed on the island. The 53 animals were valued at $15,000.

STARTS ON NEW ENLISTMENTS

Mansfield Navy Recruiting Office Opens New Classification.

The Mansfield U. S. Navy recruiting station is now accepting enlistments for a new classification of reserve midshipman training, according to W. G. Cox, recruiting officer in charge of the station in the postoffice.

Applicants for training must possess college degrees in arts, science or engineering including college courses in mathematics, Cox said.

Following the successful completion of a four-month training course, recruits will qualify for commission as ensign in the U. S. naval reserve, Cox stated.

Members of the naval reserve obligate themselves to serve in the Navy in time of war or when a national emergency exists. According to a presidential proclamation of Sept. 8, 1939, such a national emergency now exists.

Legislature Bears Down on Mine Safety

BROADWAY

—By Dorothy Kilgallen

What New York Needs:

ALANA TURNER at every night club ringside . . . A ban on peacock blue suits in Lindy's . . . A truth-meter for backstage visitors on opening nights . . . A soupcon of rouge for the pallor gals — Tallulah Bankhead and Valentina. They worry you, floating down the aisles with those white faces. . . .

A merry-go-round in Times Square at night . . . Hotter rhumba bands in the East Side places . . . A male equivalent of "Broadway Rose" . . . A Stork "Dub-Pub" for frustrated creatures who have been barred by the Stork club . . . More electric bulbs and fewer neon signs. Neons give Broadway that Coney Island look.

A jaunty summer revue to revive the wilting theater lists . . . A canopy over the Paramount stage door so those poor autograph-seeking jitterbugs don't drown on rainy days . . . The Hollywood touch for movie premieres . . . More color How about white pith helmets and apple green summer suits for the traffic cops?

An amusing showgirl, along the Vera Milton-Lois Andrew-Marian Martin type . . Some good tear-jerking pathos, like Fannie Brice singing "My Man" with Nicky Arnstein as the target.

A theater presenting plays just for children. There are millions of children who ought to be seeing plays but who aren't quite ready for "Watch On the Rhine."

Another Ring Lardner to kid the corn off the June-moon rhymings of Tin Pan Alley . . . A magic carpet to whisk you from the West Forties to the East Fifties at 11:15 p. m. in something less than the lifetime it takes by taxi.

A new Broadway word to replace "character," which is getting so boresome. How about type, species, party, or personage? . . . A telephone booth on every corner . . . A real matinee idol of the Jawn Barrymore school.

An Emily Postish character in all the spots featuring singers of naughty songs, so the customers can know when to stop laughing and start blushing.

An award to the fellows who think up all those blood-curdling adjectives for the marquees of the 42d st. 15-cent flicker houses.

An interview with Billy Rose in which he announces he is planning something small. One big, gala, super-terrific movie merging with the casts of the Dr. Kildare, Andy Hardy, Blondie and Jones Family pictures with the casts of the Lone Ranger, Aldrich Family and "Maisie."

Collapsible seats at night club tables for pests who don't wait to be asked.

A new coiffure for Betty Davis . . Spinach that tastes like a fudge pecan sundae . . . Somebody to give a prize to Sherman Billingsley, just for a switch . . . More belles like Virginia Field and Anna Graham to stand outside the "Panama Hattie" stage door afternoon, sunning themselves— in slacks and sweaters, Mr. Hays. Brightens up the street no end.

A new Broadway wit. Where's Levant? . . . A mass assassination of doormen who say "the picture is just about to start" when they mean "you'll have to stand and wait for 45 minutes."

A night club with a new idea. If there are any left . . . A way of walking out gracefully on an unbearable play. Maybe you could rent decoys, so the seats wouldn't look empty to the poor actors on the stage.

An impersonator who never imitates Greta Garbo, Lionel Barrymore, W. C. Fields, Zasu Pitts, or Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A revitalized Greenwich Village, night clubbily speaking . . . Bob Hope in a Broadway musical . . . Or Bing Crosby in the same . . . Cuter costumes on the shoeshine boys . . . Hotel house detectives who look like Nat Pendleton.

A bicycle path . . .A night club catering exclusively to impolite customers, to keep them out of boites where the civilized go . . . Alexander Woollcott writing again . . . Sandwich men who look like Cary Grant . . . A liniment to cure the stiff necks Broadwayites get looking at the animated electric signs.

More floor shows as zippy as the current one at the Rainbow Room . . . Joe Frisco in Shubert Alley, to stimulate the fabrication of the ever-amusing Frisco fables . . . A squadron to remove signs and posters ballyhooing shows that closed weeks ago . . .

An unobtrustive drummer in a big swing band . . . A bevy of belles dressed the way Katharine Cornell is garbed in "The Doctor's Dilemma."

DELAY CONVOY TALK, TAKE UP SHIP MEASURE

Senators Expect Approval of Requisitioning By Tonight; Tobey Waits.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Postponement of a test on the convoy issue cleared the way for senate passage of the administration bill authorizing acquisition of idle foreign ports.

The threat of lengthy debate was lifted when Senator Tobey (R-NH) decided not to seek an anti-convoy provision in the pending legislation, but to wait until the whole convoy question could be raised separately.

Both the supporters and the opponents of the ship acquisition measure thereupon agreed that it would receive senate approval by nightfall and returned to the house for action on minor amendments. The house passed the bill by a two-to-one vote last week.

With the convoy rider eliminated from consideration, the only important amendment to be voted on was the proposal of Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich) and Clark (D-Mo) to prohibit the transfer of any requisitioned belligerent ship to another belligerent.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky), the majority leader, predicted the defeat of this amendment, which would prevent the United States from turning over to Britain any of the 30 Axis vessels now in the coast guard's protective custody.

Senator tobey reluctantly decided to refrain from offering his anti-convoy rider to the ship bill after two meetings yesterday with a group of senators who favor his proposal but who believe it would command greater support if presented separately and not as an amendment to an extraneous measure.

The group also felt it might be wiser to wait until President Roosevelt had delivered his fireside chat on May 27.

"There is no element of retreat in this," Tobey insisted afterward. "The issue is still very much alive and will be brought to the senate, maybe next week."

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) said it was his understanding that all of the $1,300,000,000 of existing army and navy equipment legally transferable under the lease-lend act had been sent abroad before the act was passd, so no convoys were needed for that.

Possibility of spending a day or two in camp this summer was responsible for unusual enthusiasm shown at the weekly recreation meeting of the Richland county blind today at the Salvation Army. Adjt. This would be the first time that such an excursion has been arranged for the blind of the county.

With every spring housecleaning season comes reports of housewives being victimized by fake salesmen peddling stolen or inferior goods, and Sheriff Frank E. Robinson knew today that the season is here. He received a complaint from Bellville that men driving a car with Wisconsin plates were attempting to sell fur coats at prices so cheap that the suspicions of residents were aroused. Officers warned against purchasing goods or making down payments on articles unless there is assurance they are reliable and will be delivered.

CONCENTRATES ON BILL, SEES ADJOURNMENT

Action on Claims and Budget Measures Due; Hope To Finish Tonight.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS—The Ohio legislature, having liberalized unemployment insurance benefits, concentrated on the mine safety bill today amid hopes of quitting work finally.

House leaders sought to bring up the mine measure for a vote under a suspension of the rules. The judiciary committee, recommending it for passage, made concessions to labor and the Democratic members were expected to go along.

Senate passage of the $350,000 sundry claims bill and approval of a senate-house conference committee's report on the $352,800,000 biennial appropriation bill were other "must" matters demanding attention.

The senate, operating in a farewell atmosphere with music and gifts for its officials, last night completed enactment of legislation to bar un-American parties from the election ballot.

Opponents of the ballot measure, however, challenged its legality because of a parliamentary error in the proceedings.

The senate also gave final approval to bills which would require rural voters to sign poll books and prohibit constables from making traffic arrests on state highways or from enforcing the newly enacted uniform traffic code.

The unemployment insurance bill sailed through the house, 123 to 1, the dissenting vote being cast by Rep. Gus Kasch (D.-Summit). Then the senate approved house amendments, 23 to 4, over the protest of Republican Leader Frank E. Whittemore who wanted an administrative change deleted.

The measure is estimated to increase benefits to the jobless by $7,500,000 a year while reducing by $16,000,000 the pay roll taxes of employers contributing to the insurance fund.

Another bill clearing the legislative hurdle requires the state to allocate school foundation funds to school districts on a basis of pupil residence rather than attendance. It is designed to prevent districts from "hi-jacking" pupils from other districts in order to increase their state aid.

ASKS SENATOR LEAVE LEGION AFTER HECTIC BALLOT DEBATE

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—State Commander Ralph Stone of the American Legion today suggested that Sen. Grant P Ward, jr., Franklin, resign from the Legion as the aftermath of a hectic senate session which approved a bill to bar un-American parties from the Ohio eletion ballot.

Stone, whose home is in Toledo, took exception to remarks made by Ward on the senate floor when the senate by a vote of 17 to 12 relieved its judiciary committee, of which Ward is chairman, of further responsibility for the measure, which is aimed chiefly against the Communist party.

The action climaxed a day of vigorous lobbying by Stone and other Legionnaires to revive the measure which the committee had refused to pass Wednesday night.

When the bill was taken up on the floor, Ward accused Stone of trying to "intimidate" the judiciary committee.

Stone retorted in a telegram to Ward today as follows:

"Consider your tirade against the state commander of the American Legion on the floor of the senate a great compliment. American Legion of Ohio only desires true and loyal citizens as members, not fellow travelers of Communists and other subversive groups Suggest you resign from the American Legion. We do not want or need your kind."

Strict legality of the senate's action last night was in doubt. After Lieut. Gov. Paul H. Herbert ruled that the 17 to 12 vote pulled the measure out of committee, he was advised that senate rules state a majority—19 votes—is necessary for such action.

Olympe Bradna Marries Socialite At Beverly Hills.

HOLLYWOOD— (INS) —Olympe Bradna, French film starlet, and Douglas Woods Wilhoit, young Santa Barbara socialite, were on their honeymoon today following a fashionable church wedding in Beverly Hills.

In the presence of members of the two families and a number of close friends of the pair, the ceremony was performed in the Church of the Good Shepherd with Rev. James J. McGovern officiating.

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—It's a wonderful world.

The glamorous movie star gives up ALL to marry the simple cowboy from the plains instead of the rich and famous producer, just as Mary Beth Hughes does in "The Cowboy and the Blond," though you and I know how many movie stars don't marry the producer when they get the chance.

ROBBIN COONS

The idolized crooner gets so weary with the burden of feminine adulation that he runs away and joins the navy, just as Dick Powell does in "In the Navy"—but you and I suspect this weariness fame has compensations.

There's never more than one real beauty in a town that Marlene Dietrich visits, and that one beauty can twist the male population around her little finger while the homely crows caw in the background—though you and I knew old New Orleans had some famous beauties who somehow didn't get in camera range.

Jovial fat boys always lose out in love, but never fail to play best pal to the lost love and her new sweetie, just like Jack Oakie in "The Great American Broadcast"—though you and I know fat boys can nurse a grudge as well as the next one.

True love finds its reward, honesty is the best policy, virtue triumphs in the end, there's decency in the worst of us, hearts of gold beat beneath glittering exteriors. Hedy Lamarr in the Follies dreams only of her impoverished husband instead of fur coats and jewels and stagedoor wolves, for what is WEALTH when TRUE LOVE is at STAKE?

Yea, verily, it's a wonderful world of the screen.

Joseph Cotten, the "Citizen Kane" hit, is to be with France's Michele Morgan in "Journey Into Fear." . . . STILL PUZZLED

Council's Finance Committee Meets on Salary Plan.

Members of council's finance and salaries committees met for more than three hours last night but were unable to solve technical problems in a new wage schedule which have been termed by City Auditor Paul L. Kelley as dangerous to the city's civil service system.

Fred Miller, chairman of the finance committee, announced today that although a few minor changes were made in the schedule that the problem of giving increases to two senior laborers without creating new positions had not been solved.

Miller said that the committees would confer with City Solicitor M. D. Ward, jr., before submitting the proposed schedule to council.

The problem arose when Kelley questioned the new schedule at a meeting of council on May 6. The auditor pointed out that the schedule created new positions for foremen in the waterworks repair and painter groups. Council wishing to give raises to two veterans had classified them as foremen with higher salaries.

Children's Home Trustees Set To Build New Addition.

Contracts totaling $6,170 for an addition to the south wing of the Richland County Children's home had been awarded today by the home trustees. All awards were on low bids.

Mystery of Noted 'Dare Stones' Now Looks Like Fake

GAINESVILLE, Ga. — (U.P.) — The mystery of the famous "Eleanor Dare stones" developed toward solution today when Vice President H. J. Pearce, jr., of Brenau college said that a stone mason who had "discovered" many of the carved pieces of rock had admitted he faked them.

The stones have been the prized possession of Brenau college since they were "turned up" from time to time across South Carolina and North Georgia.

They purportedly carried messages carved by Eleanor Dare, mother of Virginia Dare, revealing her life among the Indians after the capture of the "Lost Colony" of Roanoke during the late sixteenth century.

COTTAGE GARDEN CLUB GIVES LILACS TO CITY

Guest Party at North Lake Park Held Wednesday For Dedication and Presentation of Shrubs; Sixty Attend Program and Tea at Pavilion.

ONE of the prettiest events of the late spring was the Lilac Tea given Wednesday afternoon at the North Lake Park pavilion by members of the Cottage Garden club. The affair was held to dedicate and present to the city the 40 lilac shrubs which the group had planted along the north end of the park near the railroad. Sixty members and guests attended the program and tea. Mrs. Frank Forshee was program chairman. A marker was placed on the grounds when the dedicatory service took place.

Following the program the group viewed the lovely tables which had been attractively set with dishes and flower arrangements by club members. Mrs. A. C. Tuttle set a bride's table which was all in white appointments and floral centerpiece. A formal dinner table was arranged by Mrs. Paul Eliot and Mrs. George Fort set an old-fashioned table with dishes 150 years old. A picnic arrangement was made by Mrs. S. A. Strawberry Cream Pie

2 teaspoons gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
2 cups sliced fresh strawberries (1 pint)
1 cup confectioners' sugar
1½ tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1 baked Spry Pie Shell

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Cool slightly. Combine whipped cream, strawberries, sugar, lemon juice, salt and gelatin mixture. Pour into baked pie shell and chill in refrigerator.

Spry Pie Shell

1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
7 tablespoons Spry
3 tablespoons cold water (about)

Sift flour and salt together. Add ⅓ of Spry and cut in until mixture is as fine as meal. (Makes crust tender.) Add remaining Spry and continue cutting until particles are size of a large pea. Sprinkle water gradually over mixture. (Makes crust flaky. Use Spry and this Spry way of mixing for all pastry—hear the compliments you get!)

With a fork work lightly together until a dough is formed. Roll dough ⅛-inch thick and prick with a fork. Fit dough into 9-inch pan. Trim pastry 1 inch larger than pan and turn back edge. Flute rim. Bake in very hot oven (450° F.) 12 to 15 minutes.

(All measurements in these recipes are level)

See how the tender, nut-sweet Sprycrust brings out the FULL enticing strawberry flavor

"HERE'S a pie you could write a poem about," says Aunt Jenny. "The fillin's a dream, the flavor is wonderful! Don't risk spoilin' it with crust that's even a mite off-flavor. Avoid ordinary shortenin's. Use purer Spry an' get crust as dainty an' delicate as the fillin'. Do all your bakin' an' fryin' with Spry an' start today!"

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, May 16.

Surprising and unusual developments in all business and private relations are probable on this day, judging by the exciting planetary figures. Matters of entirely strange, curious and unexpected aspect may descend with whirlwind and sweeping force to reorient the life and its affairs with unpredictable and perhaps unprecedented denouements. There may be sudden uprooting from old environs and interests, with happy fulfillments more romantic than commonplace. In fact the romantic interest may reach a sensational or public interest, but not without certain disagreeable features. Be alert to subtle entanglements.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of unusual, spectacular and surprising events which may literally sweep them off their feet with breathtaking swiftness and precipitancy. It is difficult to predict the nature of this sudden visitation, but good fortune, far-reaching benefits, joys, adventure and romance should result. Thrills and dramatic denouements may sweep them into the public eye. Use discretion in public dealings.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

"I have never known Miss Carew to 'stall' as you put it," I said slowly. "I have no reason to believe that she meant anything else but what she said."

Even as I talked I was conscious of the frantic revolvings of what Dicky calls "the wheels" in my head. I knew that from somewhere, either before Nancy Carew came to my door or during her visit to me, I must evolve a change in her role which would convince Mary of the plausibility of the change, and at the same time keep the harmony of the scene at its present high level.

There was a third factor in the situation which was likely to prove troublesome. Philip Veritzen does not take kindly—to put his proposed alteration of even the inflection of a syllable in any production of his, once he has set the seal of his approval upon it. But I realized, with a flash of understanding, that in this would be my way out.

Maps Out a Plan.

I could propose the camouflaged change to him, after making sure that he was forewarned by Olga of what was coming. I knew that I could count on her to placate her husband.

Then he would veto it, making sure that Mary knew of his refusal to consider it, and our secret would be safe.

But I reckoned without Mary's keen perceptions. She looked me straight in the eyes while I talked, and I felt absurdly like lowering mine, although I was able to keep them steady. And when I finished she gave a skeptical, almost impertinent shrug of her shoulders.

"Either old Nancy's gone daffy, or she's stalling," she said. And I knew that only Mary's regard for me kept her from including me in the accusation.

"She's as shrewd as they make 'em," she went on, ticking off the points she was making on her fingers. And she's been in this business ages. And she knows my darling papa-in-law as if he were a picture puzzle that she'd put together. She knows that never in a hundred years would he consent to any alteration in his production. As good actresses as Nancy Carew have been dropped from his rolls for less than that.

"No, no, Auntie Madge; she'll have to hand me something better than that. She wants a chance to talk to you; that I grant you. But it isn't about a change in her role. I'll wager good bright pennies on that."

Mary Is Contrite.

"Do you mind, Mary?" I said quietly, "if we postpone the discussion of Miss Carew until I have a chance to talk to you about the errand which brought me here? Believe me, it is most important."

"Oh! darling Auntie Madge, I am so sorry," she said. "I won't open my mouth again until you tell me to talk. Here! Take this chair—it's lots more comfortable than that one you're in—and tell me what's on your mind."

With the exception of one exclamation of horror, almost a scream, which she quickly suppressed, she listened quietly while I told her the story as I had arranged it in my mind, laying especial stress upon Marion's telephone to me from Mrs. Tiger's home. But when I told her of Marion's letter to Ronald, with its request that it be shown to Mary, her face quickened into excitement and she sprang to her feet.

"Oh! please show me the letter quickly," she pleaded.

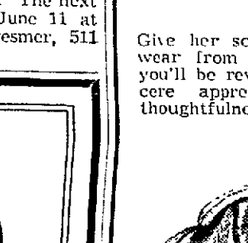
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

MANUFACTURING ENTRIES

IF YOU NEED an extra entry to the dummy, why not try to manufacture one. Perhaps you can do it by throwing one of your own honors under some high card played by the defenders. But you will not be likely to do that unless you first count up to see how many entries you require, to bring in a suit over there, to lead for finesses or for some other purpose.



(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 NT
Pass	2 NT	Pass	3 NT

South was shooting for tops, or else he would have opened that hand with 1-Diamond as did other players in the same duplicate. It gave him a chance for top score, as events turned out, but he muffed it.

West led the spade 4 to the K, and East returned the 7, West letting the Q win. South now led to the club A, finessed the diamond J, laid down the diamond A and then the Q to East's K. Return of the spade 6 to the A enabled the side than to take the setting tricks.

Why didn't South put his spade Q on East's K on the first trick? If West had then ducked, dummy would have won for one diamond finesse, the club A would have been an entry for a second finesse, the A would have settled East's diamond K and thus game would have been made with one trick in spades, two in hearts, five in diamonds and one in clubs.

Of course, West might have taken the second spade trick if South unblocked on the first trick, and then might have made the brilliant return of the heart J. But South could have made his contract then by orderly and logical play. He could win that, lead to the club A, settle East's last spade with the J, discarding the heart 4, then lead toward his club Q. Whether East won that or not, South could afford to give up a diamond trick and still take nine, with one in spades, two in hearts, four in diamonds and two in clubs. This line of play would have been obligatory, as the best chance, if the first three tricks went as outlined.

Tomorrow's Problem.

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable).

If South wins the second heart trick at 3-No Trumps, and then leads the diamond 8 to the Q, should East play his A or his 3, and why?

Braves Blast Lima Pandas 8 to 3 In League Opener

Sport Podge by REX HESS

One of the best bunch of sportsmen I've met this winter and spring as conductor of this page is that Silver King Tractor bowling team from from Plymouth.

I didn't know until the night of the Transportation league banquet at the Liederkranz club that the Silver Kings were from Plymouth.

And when I found out they were from Plymouth, well that explained a lot of things, at least to me.

Last winter when the Kings were edged out of a match by the Royal Crown Cola women's team, and then came back for revenge only to get walloped by nearly 400 pins on a Sunday afternoon when the keglerettes really were torrid, I wondered how the Kings could take it, and how their backer could stand it.

But such good sports they are, I discovered, that they could not only take it, but they liked the riding they got for those defeats. And the backers could go along with the bowlers in the fun they had since the team was rolling "out of town."

This is not in disparagement of any Mansfield backer of bowling teams. The backer of any team in any town wouldn't care much about having his heroes beaten by a team of women.

"We might not have felt so happy if we had beaten the women," they told me, "but we'd have beaten them if we could. We were in there rolling, even though we didn't roll so good.

"And when Margaret Baker rolled that 670 or so, we were razzing her all through the game. A lot of good it did us. So unconscious she was that day.

"Yes sir, we were pitchin' but we weren't pitchin' in our niche those days. We'll have to pitch a pitch-niche later, but not with the mineralite and kindlin'."

Transportation league bowlers probably wondered why there was no mention on this page yesterday of their dinner the night before.

But if they recalled the fun they had the night before, they probably didn't wonder long.

The business of the meeting consisted in the election of Clarence Williams, president, George Ellis, secretary, and Art Kocher, treasurer. The monkey business—that was plain terrific.

* * *

There's only one guy who has more fun than a bowler. That's a guy who doesn't bowl, going to bowlers' banquets. I'll admit I'm very happy, and sometimes slap-happy, just the way I am.

* * *

I called off the rest of the season with Tuesday night's dinner. Why, if I should go to any more of those banquets, and then should take up bowling—

I would roll down the alley, and leave that mineral globule behind.

Harder Beats Yankees

Chalks Up Fourth Win By Giving Only 6 Hits.

By JUDSON BAILEY
(AP Sports Writer)

MEL HARDER, who at the age of 31 is a veteran of a dozen years service with the Cleveland Indians in the American league, is the miracle pitcher of the season thus far.

* * *

The slender Nebraskan, always considered a "hot weather" performer already has won four games without a defeat and only question now is whether he can maintain anything resembling this winning pace through the remainder of the campaign.

For many years Harder was one of the best hurlers in his league, but even in his best seasons he never could get going in the spring.

In 1935 when he won 22 games he didn't collect his first victory until the 30th of May. In 1938, his best recent season, he scored 17 triumphs and didn't get the first one until June. Last year, when he won 12 games, he didn't even make his first start until May 22.

Consequently his six-hit, 4-1 victory over the New York Yankees yesterday caused his Cleveland cohorts, as well as the rest of the American league, to wonder what level he might reach this summer.

He always has been bitter medicine for the Yankees and in his latest start he had everybody baffled except Joe Gordon, whose three singles accounted for half New York's hits.

He also had the help of three home runs—Gene Desautels, Clarence (Soup) Campbell and Gee Walker. Each got his first homer of the season to sink Red Ruffing, although he too pitched six-hit ball. Campbell's blow in the eighth followed a single by Lou Boudreau and broke a 1-1 tie.

It was the fourth straight defeat for the Yanks and the second day in a row they were dropped by homers. Boudreau's blast in the tenth beat them Tuesday.

Cleveland Manager Roger Peckinpaugh named Al Milnar, Al Smith and Bob Feller to twirl the three contests against the second-place Boston Red Sox, with Milnar leading off today. Southpaw Earl Johnson was the Boston mound choice for the opener.

The Red Sox regained second place by toppling the Chicago White Sox 10-7 with a seven-run rally in the seventh inning, climaxed by a grand-slam homer by Manager Joe Cronin.

* * *

The Washington Senators set down the Detroit Tigers 9-4 for the American league champions' sixth straight loss since Hank Greenberg departed for the army.

* * *

The St. Louis Browns stopped the Philadelphia Athletics 10-5 behind the steady nine-hit hurling of Bob Harris.

In the National league the Brooklyn Dodgers walloped the Cincinnati Reds 6-2.

The Pittsburgh Pirates plopped a 12-7 defeat on the Phillies after the Phils had hit three homers and scored all their runs in the first four frames.

The other National league teams were rained out.

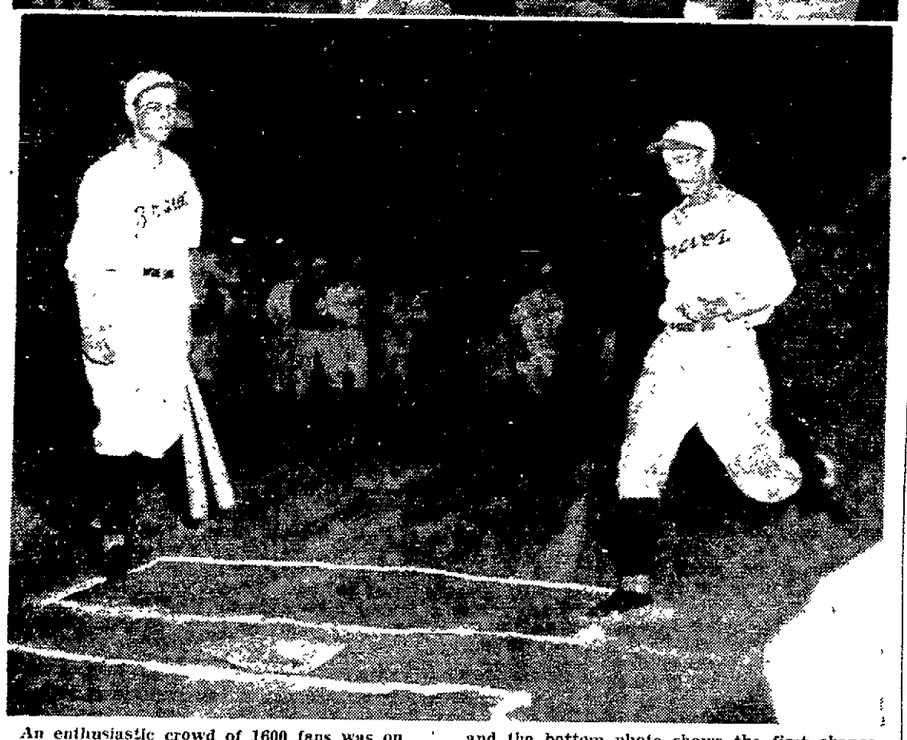
Crowd of 1600 Sees Opener



An enthusiastic crowd of 1600 fans was on hand to cheer Mansfield's Braves to an 8 to 3 victory over Lima in the Ohio State league opening game at the Fairground last night. Part of the crowd is shown in the top picture, and the bottom photo shows the first chance the crowd had to cheer. Bob Ankrum, who led off with a double, is shown crossing the plate with the first run of the game in the opening inning, scoring on Grafton Moore's homer.

Western Wins Softball Game

Bowman, Hedges and Brinkerhoff Victors.

Western Grade school softballers edged Carpenter 2 to 1 yesterday at North Park while Bowman took Prospect 9 to 3 at Prospect park, Hedges squelched West Fifth 12 to 2 at Hedges, and Brinkerhoff defeated Woodland, 10 to 7 in games of the Grade school league.

The Carpenter-Western tilt was a pitchers' battle that allowed only four hits for each team. Western scored in the first and the fourth inning. Making a run in the fifth, Carpenter made the score 2 to 1 but Western held that lead to win the game.

Bowman had Prospect 4 to 0 by the fourth inning. In the fifth Prospect rallied with 3 runs, but could not match the Bowman battery that bounced back with five.

Hedges took a 5 to 0 lead in the first inning and had a 8 to 0 lead till West Fifth scored one in the fourth. Taking three in the fifth and one in the sixth while holding West Fifth to one run in the fifth inning, Hedges took the game by a large margin.

Byers and Moore Prove Heroes of Mansfield Victory

Clowson's Club Makes Hit with Fans by Hustling Style of Play

MANSFIELD'S hustling and bustling Braves broke away to a flying start in the Ohio State league pennant chase last night with an 8 to 3 victory over Lima's Pandas before an officially estimated crowd of 1600 fans.

Heroes of the game were Chuck Byers, veteran right-handed hurler of the Braves who turned in a very neat seven-hit performance on the hill, Grafton Moore, erstwhile third base rookie who roamed the center field pasture for the evening and clouted a home run and two singles, and Johnny Cindric, slugging first sacker of the Pandas who smacked the apple for two towering home runs and a double and drew a walk in his other trip to the platter.

Mansfield fans were high in their praise of the Braves after last night's decisive win. The club played errorless and snappy ball, and behind Byers' fine hurling they gave the impression that they'll be a tough team to beat this summer.

* * *

Byers struck out 13 batters, walked three and was master of the situation throughout, with the exception of the four times Johnny Cindric strolled up to the dish.

The Braves got away to a three-run lead in the first inning when Ankrum led off with a double, Salem walked, and Moore tagged his mighty home run over the left field wall.

They added three more in the fourth when Moore singled, Manager Alex Clowson walked, and McGrath belted a double.

Bill Salem blasted a triple to deep center in the fifth and came home on Moore's single, and in the seventh two errors helped the Braves to their final marker. Byers missed a third strike but was safe at first on Catcher Barlow's error, went to second as Ankrum rolled to Manager Otis Brannan, and came home when Turner dropped Salem's fly in left field.

The brief opening night ceremonies made a hit with the fans. League President Joe Donnelly was on hand to greet the Braves individually as the players were introduced to the crowd. And Mayor Bill Locke wound up and heaved the first ball, a high heave that finally got over the plate much to everyone's astonishment.

Tonight the Braves go to Lima for their second tilt with the Pandas. Schuyler "Pat" Patterson has been picked for the hill assignment by Manager Clowson, and tomorrow night when the Mansfield club returns home for a game with Fremont Tony Drewek will be on the mound.

Reds Try To Halt Slump

Pay $35,000 to Cards For Outfielder Koy.

By JOHN FRYE

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Just what's the matter with the World Champion Cincinnati Reds is up for violent debate from the city wharf to aristocratic Indian Hill. The management admits it doesn't know for sure but is going to do something about it. Quick.

* * *

The first overt step gives Mr. Branch Rickey a $35,000 check, more or less, to play left field for the St. Louis Cardinals, and gives the Reds, in second division of the National league for the first time since 1938, Ernie Koy.

* * *

The next overt step is not determined, at least for publication, but General Manager Warren C. Giles says:

"We're going to get going if we have to change half the club. But we're not going to make changes while we're panicky.

I. E: The Reds aren't going to give opposition clubs a chance to pick up good ball players cheap just because the boys aren't doing so well at the moment.

Ernie, slugging, 28-year-old speedster who went to the Cardinals in the business that gave Brooklyn Joe Medwick, became Red property in a straight cash deal. Giles announced it last night, just after the Reds had dropped their fourth straight game, a 6-2 defeat by the Dodgers which pushed the champs into sixth place.

Giles insists he has nothing particularly in mind just now and others of the front office say that's right

Giles and staff cling to the hope that there's nothing wrong with the Reds that a five-game winning streak wouldn't cure. The problem is to get the streak started.

It's not something to be blamed easily on swelled heads or epidemic indifference There are too many reputations at stake. Who would guess that Frank McCormick and Jim Gleeson, both among the top seven hitters of the league last year, would go to bat 51 times and produce just one hit? Frank got a single yesterday to make it two in 59

"We're gonna keep trying," says Giles

Giles also announced the recall of Third Baseman Chuck Aleno from Indianapolis of the American Association to backstop Bill Werber, who has developed a trick knee, the sale of Infielder Floyd "Pep" Young to Rochester of the International, and the return of southpaw Pitcher Bob Logan to Indianapolis, subject to 24-hour recall.

Gene Thompson is the pitcher as the Reds open the flood-light season tonight against the Phillies. One Bill Crouch will pitch for the team that slapped the Reds down twice in a row in Philadelphia.

NEW YORK — (The Special News Service) — New Yorkers can't decide between Rizzuto and Priddy and Boudreau and Mack as the slickest second base duo in the majors . . . With Toledo and St. Paul drawing only 40 paid admissions the other day, no wonder Judge Bramham, the Czar of the minors, is fearful that some of the Class C and D loops won't stand the gaff all season . . . After the Conn fight, Joe Louis shifts training headquarters from Greenwood Lake to the Blue Hill Country club at Orangeburg, N. Y., training base of the football giants . . . Incidentally, Louis is 1-10 over Buddy Baer. New York has Bob Montgomery 10-13 over Jew Jenkins

Beauty Contest To Be Staged at Theater Tuesday

"Miss Mansfield" will be selected at the Park theater Tuesday night, May 20, when a "Search for Screen Talent" contest is staged jointly with an amateur talent contest by Mrs. Agnes Winslow, representative of the Pnited Cinema Productions.

Approximately 40 Mansfield young people will participate in the contest, according to Mrs. Winslow, and the winner will be given the opportunity of entering a state contest in Columbus with expenses paid.

A screen test will be made of the Mansfield winner during her appearance in Columbus and it will later be shown at the Park theater.

Outstanding vaudeville acts by local talent have been viewed by Mrs. Wilson for the Tuesday night performance. Other acts or beauty contestants wishing to register for the events may contact Mrs. Wilson at the Park theater or call at the box office. The winning amateur act will also be taken to Columbus, Mrs. Wilson said.

Evening dress instead of the usual bathing suits, will be worn by the contestants for the title of "Miss Mansfield," the director said.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Verna Winand entertained the Ladies Aid society of the Church of Christ at her home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overly and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Turner and Rue Ackerman and family were guests Mother's day of Mr. and Mrs Walter Lewis.

Lovell Lane and family and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Purdy were guests at a birthday dinner Sunday honoring Mrs Martha Keenan at the Frank Keenan home near Chesterville.

THEATERS

Dramatic Adventure.

"The People vs. Dr. Kildare," at the Ohio, provides Lew Ayres, as the young doctor and Lionel Barrymore, as his preceptor, Dr. Gillespie, with the most dramatic adventure of the pair to date. An emergency operation leads to a malpractice suit. The physicians turn medical detectives to ferret out evidence and Barrymore, in a dramatic climax, solves the complications. With all the thrills and drama there are plenty of comedy moments particularly when Barrymore sings to a baby.

Bonita Granville as an ice follies star, Walter Kingsford and Laraine Day are others in the cast.

Sea Heroism.

Based on Eugene O'Neill's thrilling sea plays, "The Long Voyage Home," showing at the Madison, depicts the tale of heroic sailors who , without uniforms, protection or the possibility of receiving medals, carry out one of the most dangerous tasks in modern war, that of supplying explosives to their country while they challenge the gales at seas. Thomas Mitchell, John Wayne and Ian Hunter headline the cast that has Barry Fitzgerald, Carmen Morales and John Qualen. The wide-open town of Las Vegas, Nevada, inspired "Las Vegas Nights," the second attraction with Tommy Dorsey's orchestra and Bert Wheeler.

Jungle Expose.

The cannibalistic intent of jungle leopard men is exposed for the first time on the screen in Dr. Paul L. Hoefler's real-life saga of the Congo, "Leopard Men of Africa," showing at the Ritz. Most deadly of all jungle savages because of the great age of their sect the leopard men dive from trees to kill in a manner little known to the civilized world. "Blonde Inspiration," with John Sheltin and Virginia Grey, a comedy of life among would-be authors, is the second attraction.

Spy Plot Smashed.

"Meet Boston Blackie," with Chester Morris and Rochelle Hudson is showing at the Park. Smashing a spy plot in a freak show motivates the action and furnishes numerous thrills. Tim Holt in "Along the Rio Grande," the co-feature, has Emmett Lynn, Ray Whitley and Betty Jane Rhodes.

Lone Wolf Returns.

"The Lone Wolf Meets a Lady," featuring Warren Williams in another adventure of the light-hearted, light-fingered rogue who steals feminine hearts with the same ease he does gems, opens Friday at the Majestic. Jean Muir is the beauty in the case and the cast includes Eric Blore, Victory Jory and Roger Pryor. "Outlaws of the Panhandle," a story of frontier days, with Charles Starret and Frances Robinson is the second film.

Ohio Lady Tells How Vendol Eased Sour, Upset Stomach

When constipated she suffered agonies from symptoms like acid indigestion, gas, bloating, 'heartburn', shortness of breath. Highly recommends great medicine.

"About two weeks ago I took my first dose of Vendol, and how I wish I had found this fine medicine sooner," declares Mrs. Camilla Facemire, who lives at Springfield, Ohio.

"I have tried many different compounds because when I'm constipated I really suffer agonies from symptoms like acid indigestion, and those who suffer the same way know what I mean, also gas cramps and such a bloated feeling that I'd be uncomfortable for hours after meals, and a feeling like a lump in my throat I couldn't swallow nor throw out, all due to constipation.

"Sometimes if the constipation was very bad I would awaken with a bad taste in my mouth, tongue coated, head feeling dull and achy, and little spots dancing before my eyes, with no desire to eat breakfast, all resulting from constipation.

"Imagine how happy I was when I found Vendol and got such marvelous temporary relief from constipation, and when I get this relief I do not suffer from the symptoms of sour, acid, upset, gassy stomach conditions, nor the dizziness, headaches, and other symptoms due to constipation described above. Vendol acts so smoothly, easily, and completely, and is so sasisfactory, that I'm glad to recommend it."

MRS. CAMILLA FACEMIRE

Vendol is the medicine so popular all over this state for many years and has been used by thousands of responsible people who depend upon it when they are constipated, need a mild diuretic to their kidneys or a carminative for the stomach and the many symptoms due to these troubles. Vendol is pleasant to take, prompt and efficient in action. Give it a chance to help you.

All leading druggists sell Vendol, and it is featured and recommended here by Central Drug Store, Cor. Main and Fourth Sts.

USE INDIANS TO FOIL SPIES

Army Will Transfer Braves To G. H. Q.; They'll Employ Native Tongue.

ALEXANDRIA, La.—Camp Claiborne army officicers have hit on one practically sure-fire way of foiling saboteurs who specialize in decoding messages

They've found a way of transmitting information that's practically spy-proof

It's done with Indians. The 168th Infantry of the 34th Division, National Guard, contains eight young Sac and Fox braves whisked off the government reservation near Tama, Iowa. All eight will be transferred to headquarters company, communication section, where they will receive intensive training in the use of "walkie-talkie" radio units, officially known as SCR195.

The Indians will use their native Mesquakie tongue when they operate the units.

Army oficers are satisfied beforehand that, even should Mesquakie messages be picked up by "the enemy," the opposition won't know what they've got.

So each Indian youth will be assigned to an officer on observation duty in a front line post. The officer will give a message to his Sac and Fox operator, who will send it in his native tongue back to a fellow redskin at G. H. Q.

Pillsbury answers your questions about this new enrichment of white flour

● You understand that modern science has perfected a way to add precious food elements to your "daily bread." But just what is being added? What does it mean to you? Here, briefly, are the answers to those natural questions of yours:

1. Vitamin B1 (thiamin) is added—helps the body make proper use of energy foods (carbohydrates), which is essential to: (a) Proper growth in children. (b) Good appetite for both young and old. (c) Sound nerves. (d) Ability to thrive on hard physical work.
2. Iron is added—helps build red blood.
3. Vitamin P-P is added—another member of the Vitamin B complex, which also overcomes certain deficiencies in the diet.

● Every pound of Pillsbury's Best is now enriched with these three food essentials.

BOARD ACTS ON PLAN FRIDAY

Election Officials Expected To Add Four Precincts To Madison Township.

Scheduled to meet Friday afternoon at the courthouse with the Madison township trustees, the county board of elections is expected to redistrict the township, adding at least four voting precincts.

A redistricting plan was tentatively set up at a meeting of the election board and township trustees on April 18, but the trustees asked for more time to study the proposal and map district boundaries.

Rapid growth of the Mansfield suburban areas has increased the population of precincts in some cases to more than double the limit set by the state and necessitated the breaking up of the precincts, election board officials said.

It was pointed out that Precinct B has 874 voters and Precinct D, 849. The state limit is 400.

Adding more precincts will increase the cost of elections in the township by requiring more workers in voting places, but it will speed up tabulations and eliminate congestion at the polls, board members said.

The election board at its April meeting divided the one precinct in Washington township, making east and west precincts in the township.

Asserts Aviation Industry Has Won Battle Over Fog

NEW YORK—(NS)—Newest accomplishment in the field of aviation is the conquest of fog, the pilot's greatest enemy. According to Dr. Sverre Petterssen, Professor of Meteorology at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, two of his associates—Drs. H. H. Houghton, and W. H. Radford, also of M. I. T.—have experimented with two successful methods of dissipating fog.

Since fog is known to be the result of warm air passing over a cold surface, one of the methods tried was to place heating units beside the runways. The system was quite successful in dissipating the fog, but the heating unit created a traffic problem on the runway.

The other method—spraying the air with a solution of sulphur chloride—was found to be entirely practical. It left a space of clear air below the fog bank, enabling the pilots to see the runways.

CHAPTER XIX

Her quivering lips managed, "You were right, Bill—you mustn't think twice of me. I'll never, never get out of this mess—it's bound to follow me wherever I go!"

"Stop it, darling! Hold up that sweet chin! Let me see how brave those blue eyes can look!"

She tried to smile but it was no use. She felt numb all over. Those detectives on shore! They must have followed her and Bill out here—been shadowing them all through lunch! Well — she hoped they saw plenty!

Finally, Bill swung the boat in to shore and helped Raye out. But even the quick reassuring pressure he gave her hand now scarcely registered with her now.

"Sorry, Miss Stone," said the taller man of the two, flinging back his coat to show his shield. "But we've been ordered to take you to headquarters."

"See here, officers — you can't do this!" hotly protested Bill. "What's the trouble?"

"The Bedford affair," tersely explained one of the men.

"Nonsense! Miss Stone is in no way connected with that!" emphatically declared Bill.

"Yeah?" broke in the officer. "How come you know so much, young man?"

"I'll go with you, of course," quickly came from the deathly pale Raye. "I've already told police all I know about the—the unfortunate incident. If it will convince them I was telling the truth, I'll gladly repeat my story."

"But Hal Bedford has fully recovered from the wound! He can't be pushing this case!" declared Bill, in a puzzled sort of way.

"No, he isn't making any particular fuss over it—but his father is. The old man is determined to get at the bottom of things."

"I—see," came slowly from Bill.

The rowboat began drifting away from shore. Just in time, Bill grabbed the rope dragging from its bow and wound it securely around the stake in the ground.

"I'll go along with you, Raye," he told her now.

"You're not needed, young man," one of the detectives said caustically. "Miss Stone is liable to be detained some time at headquarters."

"They can't—can't do that to me! I had nothing to do with the—the shooting! I've told them so —I've told them — everything," Raye said, halfway between anger and fright.

The detective laughed mirthlessly.

"I'm not the one to say whether you did or didn't have a hand in the affair," he hedged. "We'd better get going, Miss Stone. My partner and me have other business to attend to soon's we turn you over to headquarters."

"I still say I'm going along." There was a peculiar gleam in Bill Anderson's keen hazel eyes.

He added abruptly, "You'll have to take me! I'm the one who did that shooting—and now I'm ready to own up to it!"

"Bill! Oh—Bill!"

The agonized cry came from Raye.

He paid no attention. He did not look at her. He held out his wrists for the handcuffs one of the detectives had produced.

"Well now—that's better," said the officers, as the handcuffs clicked. He looked as if he'd just picked a rich plum. The tidy sum of five thousand offered by Hal Bedford's father for the apprehension of this criminal would buy a police officer's family a lot of things and no mistake!

"You can drive my car back to town, Raye," Bill said, still avoiding her eyes. "I keep it in the Hilltop garage."

"Nothing doing!" snapped one of the men. "The girl goes back in the car with me! You ride in your own car—with my partner driving, young fellow."

"Surely you don't need Miss Stone now—after I've told you."

"Orders is orders! We're taking the two of you back with us —and no arguments."

"Really, Bill—I don't mind going," Raye stammered.

"Oh, why had Bill ever done such a thing? She couldn't believe it, now that her suspicions were confirmed.

But if he had actually shot Hal, it was entirely her fault. She could see that now. Bill had secretly loved her for a long time. He had been insanely jealous of Hal Bedford—it had led to—this!

* * *

She flashed an agonizing glance at the tall athletic figure of Bill as one of the detectives led him away. Tears brimmed her eyes. No—in spite of everything—she could not believe Bill Anderson would ever do such a thing—commit such a cowardly crime. It wasn't at all like him.

She couldn't believe it—yet—he had said . . .

She sat mutely in the front seat of the police car beside the stern-faced detective. She was too sick with grief to feel ashamed. This first ride of hers in such a car might have brought her a big thrill in the old days and she would have thought of trying to bribe the driver, been certain she could buy her way out of the difficulty. But now, it never crossed her mind.

They shot swiftly along the highway, with Bill's car closely following. The sun was beginning to go down now and it was cooler; but Raye was consumed with an inner fire that made her cheeks burn and her head pound.

Bill — and Hal Bedford — and herself! How would this awful triangle ever end?

If Hal had only seen the person who shot him, if he only knew of some reason why anyone should shoot him! But he had maintained all along that he had no idea who hated him that much, and that he had been to intoxicated at the time of the shooting to know much of anything—couldn't have recognized anyone who'd been around.

Raye had thought more than once that Hal was shielding some one. Now, something had to be done about it. How could Hal be made to talk?

At police headquarters, Raye and Bill were questioned for two nerve-wracking hours. Then Raye was allowed to leave, but Bill was detained.

Raye wanted to give him some parting words of encouragement but words stuck in her throat. Anyway, what could she say with that audience of stern-faced men crowding the small office?

So when they took Bill away, one of the officers told her she was free to go and she slowly went out into the electrically lighted street.

Scarcely conscious of what she was doing, she boarded a bus that went directly past her apartment. Upon arriving there, she stood before a mirror and dragged her little black hat off her curls.

She was startled by her altered appearance. She saw her pale, stricken face, her dark-circled haunted blue eyes, and wondered in a half-frightened way how anyone could change so decidedly in so short a time.

Only this morning she had started for the office, realizing she was freshly pretty, even though she was not deliriously happy. But now, she looked faded and worn!

It must be because of her love for Bill. She was heartbroken. The hours since she and Bill had been hailed on the lake by those two cool, callous men had been like some horrid dream.

Bill behind bars? Oh, she couldn't believe it! She couldn't allow him to stay there! There must be some way to get him out!

Then she had an idea. Perhaps it was a wild one, but it might work.

Local Prominent Hamilton Man Recommends Bee Bee's to Anyone Suffering With Kidney Trouble

"Declares that his urine didn't flow free enough and he would be called to relieve his kidneys several times each night which disturbed his sleep greatly. Thanks to Bee Bee's for giving relief."

"I had been bothered with annoying nightly risings to relieve my kidneys and my urine didn't flow freely," says Mr. Harry M. Murray, 76 years of age, of 3108 Dixie Highway, Hamilton, Ohio. "For several months I suffered from pains and soreness in my back, stiff and sore joints and muscles. I was nervous and my energy seemed to have gone which was due to poor sleep I suffered from a burning, itching and smarting sensation made urination even more undesirable, which was scanty and cloudy. I tried other remedies but they didn't seem to give me much relief. When I first heard of Bee Bee's I thought it was just another medicine but due to my tremendous suffering I decided to give it a trial at least. I was amazed with the remarkable relief Bee Bee's gave me. My above sufferings have all gone and now I sleep well and am no longer burdened with scanty and burning urination. I recommend Bee Bee's to anyone suffering with Kidney troubles.

Labor Picture Overshadows Foreign News Among U. S. Speculators.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — Leading stocks inclined to do better in today's market without the help of a great deal of bidding.

Given a moderate early boost were Republic Steel, Chrysler, Anaconda, Western Union, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, General Electric, United Aircraft and Montgomery Ward.

Commodities turned a bit mixed. The labor picture tended to overshadow foreign news to a considerable extent as a speculative factor, brokers said. While strikes here and there were settled, controversies in shipping, coal and automotive fields were believed to have served as a market brake. Otherwise, business developments continued hopeful.
